

Government is Catastrophe

Texas Lieutenant Governor Dan Patrick treats Texas Government as Unpredictable Unavoidable Catastrophe. Just listen to how Dan Patrick promotes the "First Responders Property Tax Relief Bill:"

"Our first responders are some of the most courageous men and women in the country. SB 15 will honor their bravery and exempt surviving spouses of first responders killed in the line of duty from having to pay property taxes on their homes, even if the home no longer carries a mortgage. This will help ensure surviving spouses will never be taxed out of their homestead.

"I applaud Sen. Huffines and other members of the Dallas delegation for filing the First Responder Property Tax Relief bill to honor our fallen heroes across the state and help their surviving spouses."

These officials in government can stop violating the law if they want to make sure the surviving spouses of first responders and everyone else in Texas is not "taxed out of their homestead." What is so wonderful about any Texan being "taxed out of their homestead." Why bad for survivors of first responders and not everyone? These tyrants can't help everyone only first responders.

No state in the union has authority to impose an ad valorem property tax on any property. Thomas Jefferson said that all Americans own their land, not with a feudal title, but with an allodial superior title that no government can alien for the purpose of foreclosure for failure to pay rents, fees, tenures of taxes. John Adams said the United States was created for only two purposes; to secure religious freedom and to prevent the feudal property system where the surf paid the lord or crown fees, rents, and tenures etc.

Ad valorem property tax is the feudal system where the state owns the property and the tenant pays rent on it forever to a government, no matter its form. Texas has converted the real owners into tenants in order to force them to pay rent forever. And they treat this condition as unavoidable reality when it is neither. It is a government scam that does not reflect reality, truth or authority which can be stopped by the judiciary alone.

Neither Texas nor any of its subdivisions have authority to levy an ad valorem property tax on any property in Texas and they cannot derive it from any source including the majority vote of the citizens of Texas.
